

PROFILE

KERRY BELLAMY

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

Kerry is a trainer specialising in motivation, service development and inspiring goal achievement. Her background is in management, customer service, organisational psychology, personal development and project design. Kerry has been involved with the training and development of staff since 2001 and is known for her calm approach and holistic overview. Kerry is Operations Director of Strategic Leadership UK.

AREAS OF SPECIALTY

Leadership Development, Attitude, Communication and Mentoring

Kerry has worked extensively in the mentoring and coaching of staff that are new to management and organisations. She works with groups to explore the challenges a new role brings. Kerry is also very experienced in working 1:1 on individual areas of concern and techniques to aid transition and improve staff retention and productivity.

Service Development & Enhancement

Her knowledge and understanding of organisational culture and role design have led to multiple projects and schemes being established and becoming highly successful. From initial conception through to implementation and evaluation, Kerry is able to bring new energy to projects and motivate stakeholders to achieve desired business outcomes.

Personal & Team Development

Kerry's personal passion lies in the area of personal and team development; how to achieve a greater understanding of one's self and/or a team in order to achieve desired goals and outcomes. She runs sessions with groups and individuals that explore motivations, aspirations, goal identification and achievement.
