

PROFILE

LINDSEY EYNON

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

Lindsey has navigated and managed complex multistakeholder relationships in a global organisation and understands the corporate landscape and language.

With 20 years' experience in BMW in a senior commercial procurement role, leading a team of buyers, Lindsey has coached, trained and mentored in a dynamic and fast paced environment.

Lindsey brings this experience into her role as coach, mentor, trainer and facilitator. She is a powerful partner, understanding the perspective of a large organisation, the supply chain and the personal strengths we bring to the table.

AREAS OF SPECIALTY

Thoughtful Leadership

Lindsey facilitates and delivers group programmes in leadership, enabling open dialogue around what it takes to be a leader, of oneself and of others. With direct people management experience, she brings lived context into her work.

Team Culture

Lindsey excels working with teams to develop cohesion and momentum. She has worked with multiple teams and specialises in cross functional organisational co-operation and communication.

Self-Limiting Beliefs

Lindsey's personal passion is in supporting others to recognise and overcome self-limiting beliefs in the workplace and beyond. A fundamental foundation to growth and development; much of Lindsey's training, facilitation and coaching work is grounded in resilience and practical, effective engagement within the organisation.
